

Cops in reality are the executive arm of those in power, not of justice. They will always protect capital and property ownership.

NEVER

The police is not your friend. Do not try to help them, don't talk to them aside from giving them the basic information you are legally obligated to provide.

TALK

Any information you give to the police can be used against you and others. Don't admit anything or deny anything.

TO THE

Police officers do not always follow the rules. They will lie to you to get the information they need out of you. Therefore, inform yourself about your rights and stay strong!
